Overview

Matthew Telford is a member of Hopkins & Carley's Litigation Practice. Matt has extensive experience managing complex class actions and government investigations, as well as general commercial litigation. Matt counsels clients in virtually all aspects of civil litigation including extensive written and electronic discovery, dispositive and non-dispositive motion practice, mediation and settlement discussions, class certification, trial preparation, and appellate relief.

Prior to joining Hopkins & Carley, Matt worked for Hanson Bridgett LLP as well as several Am Law 100 firms.

While in law school, Matt served as Technology Editor for the University of Pennsylvania Law Review.

Before practicing law, Matt spent time with the Human Rights Campaign, one of the nation's leading civil rights organizations, in its Washington, DC headquarters.
