Overview

As a leading wealth management advisor, Peter LaBoskey is widely regarded for his use of sophisticated planning techniques to assist his clients with wealth accumulation, preservation and transfer, including charitable transfers. Having practiced law in Silicon Valley for 35 years, his clients include:

- Founders and executives of technology companies
- Prominent entrepreneurs
- Members of the venture capital community
- High-net-worth individuals
- Family-business owners
- Public and private charitable organizations

Pete has been recommended as a 'Leader in their Field' for Private Wealth by the Chambers' High New Worth Guide in 2016 and by Chambers' USA Guide for Nationwide Wealth Management since 2010.

Before joining Hopkins & Carley, he was a Partner with Wilson Sonsini Goodrich & Rosati in Palo Alto for 24 years, where he chaired that firm's estate planning practice and its Pro Bono Committee.
